

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Between our nation's groveling over serious social issues and the negative impacts of COVID-19, I'm sure everyone has plenty of anxiety and worry about the future. While these are legitimate concerns, here at PSC we have a ton to be excited about and grateful for!

Late in 2019, we received word of an opportunity to expand into the Cincinnati market and I am excited to share that we now have an excellent team of highly skilled craftsmen & women pursuing and performing amazing work there already. Coupled with a 32,000 square foot facility and a range of solid equipment from portable welders to 30-ton capacity forklifts. We will not only be able to warehouse client's equipment in that region much more readily, we will also be equipped to perform installations and industrial maintenance throughout the greater Cincinnati and northern Kentucky region. This opening, allows PSC to complete the triangle we were seeking to link Dayton, Columbus and Cincinnati together. Sharing our professional staff and latest technological equipment amongst all three business units will further enable PSC in our pursuit towards achieving our mission and vision.

Additionally, we recently added great professional depth in the hiring of Jeff Goddard as a Sr. Project Manager. Jeff has a strong background in construction and project management. We are already seeing tons of progress being made in setting up further a professional project management structure built around accountability. We have also added Jim Wieser to the PSC team. Jim has vast knowledge of process controls and will be instrumental in helping PSC develop further our quality systems throughout the Operations and Project Management realm of our business in concert with Jeff.

On the equipment front, we have added (3) new KW T880 Tractors, (2) new 950E 50 ton Landoll Trailers and a 40 ton National Boom Truck.

As you know, our Mission is; It's about TIME - We continuously invest in innovations that save time. So along those lines, our IT Dept. lead by Rob Woehmyer has made amazing progress developing software that will streamline our estimating process and automate several functions specific to PSC Client's needs.

While there has been plenty to cause hesitance - I am reminded of my basketball coach telling us, "If you just stand there, you will grow roots". Doing so only stops you from doing anything. Therefore, you have to keep moving and making things happen if you want to win. At PSC, our perspective on the COVID-19 crisis has made us stronger as a team. Our perspective has been; where there is a negative, there is an opportunity! Seeking solutions to real problems while being supportive to your team members as each are dealing with different circumstances; challenges with home schooling their children, making sure their parents are staying out of harms way or allowing them the flexibility to support local medical healthcare efforts is simply part of PSC's culture that I am extremely proud of.

As we approach mid-2020, we all need to remain committed to looking at challenges and obstacles whatever they may be as opportunities for growth, team building and taking care of the family unit. At PSC, we are one team / one family striving to do just that. We also want to wish all of you the best in your health, safety and business during this crucial time.

Sincerely,

James R. Sever
President & CEO
